Area PTA to Join In Holding School Candidate Forum

The Granite City Area Council of Parent-Teacher Association has voted to participate with other organizations in sponsoring a forum for school-board candidates similar to the one held for the mayor candidates. Mrs. Lucille A. Caban, president, announced this week. The proposal initially was advanced by the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce, which went on record in May as favoring school candidate forums. The Quad-Cities Ministerial Association also is considering participation. A public meeting at which Granite City mayor candidates discussed their proposals was held prior to the 1965 municipal election, under arrangements made by the Ministerial Association and Chamber of Commerce.

A similar program at which school board candidates would appear is proposed for 1966. "It is true the candidates speak at the PTA meetings, plus the Area Council meeting, but it is such a limited time not much is learned from it," Mrs. Caban commented in announcing the PTA council's favorable action on a jointly-sponsored meeting devoted entirely to the candidates and their views.

It calls for 48 lots to be zoned R-2 for single-family homes, 14 to be zoned R-4 for two-family dwellings and 34 to be zoned R-5 for multiple-family dwellings or apartment houses. Approval was given a zoning change request submitted by the Granite City Housing Authority for the expansion of Anchorage homes for the elderly. The 6.87-acre tract adjacent to the present Anchorage development is zoned R-2 for single-family dwellings. An R-5 multiple-family zoning classification was requested.

State Sets Public Hearings for SWIU Highways July 13

The Illinois highway division will hold a public hearing on the location of north and south entrance roads to the new Southwestern Illinois University campus at 10 a.m. July 13 in the Madison County Farm Bureau building, 800 Hillsboro avenue, Edwardsville.

The work proposed includes two 24-foot pavements with 42-foot medians at both entrance roads with interchanges. The south road is proposed along the existing alignment of Bluff road from Route 157 to the campus, with the interchange connecting, requiring the Federal Aid Route 66 (former By-pass 66) be constructed at a more northerly location from a point about 600 feet east of Pong road to a point about 3000 feet east of Bluff road.

Proposed as the location for the north road is generally along the existing alignment of Bohm road between Pong road and Route 143. The interchange connection will require that Federal Aid Route 66 (marked as 153) be constructed at a more northerly location from a point about 700 feet east of Township road 138A to the Columbia school.

The division of highways relocation assistance program, which will be available to anyone displaced as a direct result of the construction of the project, also will be discussed at the hearing.

Expansion of GC Fire Dept. Depends on Budget Total

Granite City council members turned down Monday night a recommendation for seven firemen (one a replacement) to be hired this year for the city fire department.

The turn-down was to stall a decision until the new city budget is brought up-to-date. The council is to have been convened at an adjourned meeting Tuesday night, but that session was canceled when only seven aldermen appeared. No mention was made of the added firemen, although the seven additional Mayor Parney did huddle for a few moments to review several budget figures.

The recommendation had been made two weeks earlier by the council's Fire committee headed by Alderman Johnson, and action was deferred. The new recommendation was by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, Johnson called for the council to either accept or reject the recommendation, but other aldermen asked that the matter be postponed until after a budget study. The cost of salaries would be $37,480-a-year under present scales, and pay boosts are being sought by unions representing city workers.

Johnson was insistent and the roll call vote was 7-to-0, and the motion was declared lost because of the lack of a majority. Voting for the recommendation were: Nott, Gasarich, Johnson, Boyd, Dallas, Parney and Poulos. Against it were Rutledge, Whitson, Mortimer, Thompson, Fry and Green. Alderman Sternberg was absent.

There was an indication the recommendation for the fire department would be taken up along with the budget. A letter was received from Donald Parente, president of Firefighters Local 253, giving the council's approval of a proposal for out-of-duty firemen to be hired two weeks ago, while the department is short-handed and because of vacations. The council had requested the letter when the proposal was made two weeks ago.

The department is short one man since the June 1 retirement of the former Fire Chief Elijah King, and the out-of-duty men will be hired extra until an examination is held to fill the vacancy. They will be paid from the salary set up for the vacant post.

Mayor Parney was asked to confer with officials of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. to have the cable for telephone alarm system connections with the main fire station placed underground. The cable was knocked out for 12 hours last week when a garage burned Friday afternoon in the 2600 block alley between Madison avenue and Iowa streets.

Blue Book Boost Proposed

Referred to City Atty. Allen was a suggestion by Fire Chairman Johnson that the riders on fire insurance policies for persons living outside Granite City but dependent on the city for fire protection to call for a payment of $500 for each alarm instead of the present $100. Johnson said the higher amount could be specified as present policies expire. Allen is to determine the legal procedure to be followed. It was pointed out the city had lost about $800 worth of equipment answering an out-of-town alarm last November and received only $100. Chief Fronberger said he had talked with representatives of the Farm Bureau earlier Monday when a $100 payment was made for answer.

They were also shown the 50th Ordnance museum, a collection of old war relics picked up by the crew plus units furnished by different units as the crew travels around the countryside.

New Titles Ok'd For GC Firefighters

New titles for Granite City firefighters, recommended by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners, were approved Monday night by the city council.

Chairmen are to be known as engineers, and those with the present title of pipemen will be known as firemen.

The new titles are those used in large metropolitan departments, it was learned.

When a barn fire alarm several weeks ago, and that they approved the $300 fee, pointing out Edwardsville has a $300 fee for out-of-town fires and other communities have costs ranging to $500.

A contract with Tri-City Regional Port District for fire protection at its port on the north end of the Chain of Rocks canal harbor was placed on first reading and was referred to the city attorney for study. The contract calls for a payment of $200-a-year to the city, with provisions that the city will not be required to answer an alarm at the port if it would endanger property in the city and that the port would be liable in the event of injury to a firefighter or damage to city equipment. Bi-State Agency has a similar contract for its wharf at the canal harbor.

Need for hydrants at the Tri-City Port was questioned by several aldermen, who pointed out that the city's pump equipment could be damaged if water had to be pumped from the canal.

Johnson also called for adoption of the standard Fire Prevention Code for Granite City. He asked City Atty. Allen to study the code and prepare an ordinance for its adoption. Johnson read a letter dated Jan. 24, 1964, from the Federal Housing and Home Finance Agency district office at Chicago advising the city it must adopt such a code by Oct. 1, 1964, to qualify for federal funds through the Workable Program for Community Improvement.

Permission was granted for one member of the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners to attend a state association meeting of commissioners to be held Saturday at Zion, Ill. The commissioner is to list his expenses for reimbursement by the city.

Latham, York Die On Kansas Gallows

Two Army deserters who in 1961 killed seven persons, including two Madison county men, went to the gallows at Lansing, Kan., early Tuesday, humble and penitent in a complete reversal of their previous attitude that life was a "rat race" and that they would welcome execution.

The two men, George Ronald York, 22, of Jacksonville, Fla., and James Douglas Latham, 25, of Lawrence, Kan., were executed for killing Otto Ziegler, 62-year-old railroad worker who stopped to help them fix their automobile near Wallace, Kan. The pair, who met in the Army stockade at Fort Hood, Tex., and broke out together to begin a savage series of killings in five states, admitted killing seven persons—four men and three women. The victims included two Madison county men, Albert E. Reed, 35, of Litchfield, who was shot to death, and Martin Drenovac, 69, of Granite City, who was beaten to death. Both murders occurred June 8, 1961.

Reed stopped his car on the way to work when he saw the pair parked along a road near Edwardsville with the hood raised as if they had car trouble. The railroad lineman was robbed of a revolver and his car. Latham and York forced him to drive to a secluded area in a field near Peter's Station where they shot him and left his body in a ditch.

Later the pair drove Reed's car to Drenovac's service station near the Chain of Rocks Canal bridge. When Drenovac reached for the pistol, they pointed at him, they beat him and stabbed him to death. They took cash and gasoline from the filling station, crossed the bridge into Missouri and continued west where they killed twice more before they finally surrendered at a road block in Utah, still driving Reed's car.

White House Fellowship Nominees in Washington

Interviews will be conducted in Washington this weekend by the Commission on White House Fellowships, which includes such luminaries as Sen. Margaret Chase Smith and is headed by David Rockefeller. The 45 young men now in Washington to be rated by the commission include Capt. Raymond F. Humphrey of the Granite City Army Depot.

Appearances before the commission will begin Saturday; by Monday, a decision will have been made on which are to make up the first annual group of White House Fellows.

All 45 will meet Monday with President Lyndon B. Johnson, who will announce the 15 winners. They will be given one-year assignments, effective Sept. 1, four serving in White House aides, one going to the office of Vice-President Hubert H. Humphrey and the other to the 10 cabinet offices.

President Johnson has established the new program "to give outstanding young Americans an opportunity for one year of first-hand participation in national affairs." For 1965-66, the program will be supported by the Carnegie Foundation grant.

From an original field of 3000 applicants—each a college graduate in the 23-35 age range—those still in the running were narrowed to 223 and then to the 45 finalists in April. Regional selection panels met in St. Louis, 10 other U.S. cities and London, England.

Depot provost marshal and intelligence officer, the 29-year-old Airborne Ranger military police officer will be stationed here two and a half years. His memberships include the Madison County Police Association, Madison Rotary club and board of directors of the Depot Credit Union.

In the Army since 1957, the Norwich University graduate spent three years in Europe before coming to Granite City, where he acted as security officer for Defense Secretary McNamara during a European inspection trip in October 1962. Capt. Humphrey and his wife, Alma, both originally from Massachusetts, reside at the Depot with their five children.

Partney Overcomes Challenge by Alderman

MAYOR Partney met Monday night's challenge head-on and won his first round by refusing to back down to a familiar muddy-the-water tactic by Fifth Ward Alderman Walter Nann.

The maneuver started in the opening minutes of the council session, and it was 52 minutes before the council finally approved minutes of the June 7 meeting and went to work.

Nann used his time-worn method of quelling lawyers and said three former city attorneys had agreed with him that the June 7 approval of the $22,745 garbage-trash collection with National Disposal Co. was illegal and could result in the contractor quitting at any time and also in tax objections.

Mayor Partney merely replied that he was not hiding any "curtain options," especially since the city has two eminent lawyers on its payroll. The contract has been signed for the new firm to start July 1.

Partney Issues Order

"If you want to give us legal opinions from other attorneys, submit them in writing," Partney told the alderman.

Nann began his harangue as the minutes of the June 7 meeting were presented for a routine approval without reading, since copies are supplied each alderman. Several former-major Davis were at odds.

Partney called for the minutes to be read by Clerk Homer Pendleton. The reading required 22 minutes.

With the reading and the debate, the council meeting got off to a late start and reports from only five of six committees completed by 11 p.m.

The meeting, which was attended by 15 of the 16 aldermen (Stenberg was absent, attending an Orleans Club convention in New Orleans), was adjourned a few minutes after 11 with the council members to return at 8 p.m. Tuesday to complete the regular business and then take up the new city budget for the first time.

Appeal Tuesday

At 8 p.m. Tuesday only seven aldermen, Mayor Partney, Clerk Pendleton, City Atty. Richard Allen and Street Supt. Warfield were present. No others appeared, and because of a lack of a quorum, Mayor Partney canceled the session at 8:15, with the comment that aldermen who failed to appear showed a lack of interest in the city.

Aldermen present Tuesday were Johnson, Bartosik, Whitmer, Poulos, Fry, Green and Rutledge. Several of the absentees had to work, it was reported.

Nann's Monday Night

Nann's Monday night early harassment was quickly recognized by several of the older aldermen, who commented after the minutes that Nann was out to vex the mayor's allies into his fold—a tactic he had used successfully several times when he was mayor.

Nann's argument was that the garbage contract had been changed from the time of first reading in May and the June 7 vote of approval. "It should have gone back on first reading or amended, and I won't approve the minutes while it stands that way," Nann told Partney, adding, "I told you about it last week."

Whitmer told Nann that it was unlikely the contractor would try to get out of contract just because of the changing of a few words for clarification.

The minutes of the June 7 meeting were not approved at the outset, but later, after the reading, Partney called for a vote to reconsider and there was opposition only by Nann, Basarich and Johnson.

Final Vote in Minutes

The vote for approval of the minutes then tallied 11-5-0. Voting approval were—Rutledge, Whitmer, Boyd, Dallas, Moerlein, Thompson, Fry, Parnely, Robertson, Poulos and Green. Those opposed were Nann, Basarich, Bartosik and Johnson.

At one time during his debate, Nann turned to Moerlein, a former mayor, for support.

Moerlein pointed out that with the council's initial rejection of the minutes, all business transacted at the June 7 meeting would be canceled. He said the approval of minutes merely indicates that the record has been prepared correctly by the clerk. "There's no need to argue the merits of the contract. I call a point of order," Moerlein said.

Partney asked City Atty. Allen for an opinion on the contract.

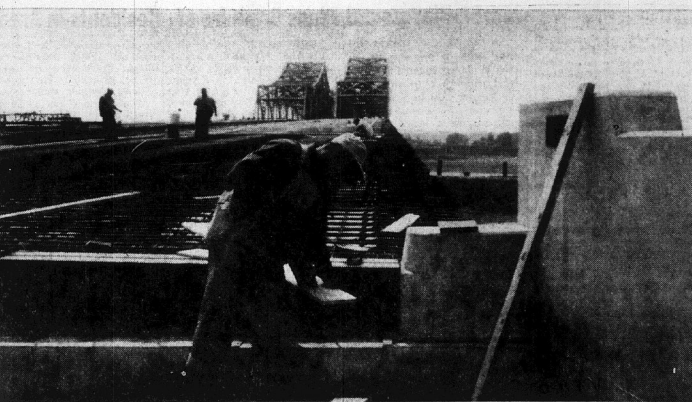

Allen said the contract was proper and that as to tax objections, there was no way for any taxpayer to show he had been harmed by the agreement, especially since the change were improvements.

Conduct, Drunk Fines

Treatment Plant to be Red Brick to Match Depot Bldgs.

Red brick instead of buff will be used in the construction of the sewage treatment plant for Granite City, according to a change order approved Monday night by the city council.

The request for red brick was made by military authorities at the Granite City Army Depot where the treatment plant is being constructed.

Moerlein, chairman of the by conduct and intoxication Wednesday Special Pollution committee, headed by Magistrate Hiseoff, held that red brick is desired for the new building at the military Madison avenue.

Savings on Red Brick

According to the project engineer, Sheppard, Morgan & Schwab, the red brick will give the city a savings of $10 per thousand and on nearly enough to cover another change-order amounting to $3305 more for ceramic floor to be placed in the filter, feeder and wash rooms at the treatment plant.

The engineer, Edw. Juncos, said the change to ceramic tiles will provide easier and faster cleaning of the treatment plant building, giving the city even more savings in maintenance.

Suggests Site Tours

The chairman issued an invitation to the council to inspect the construction site and said arrangements for group tours could be made through the depot.

He pointed out work now is nearly 25% completed and the city soon will be making application for the first installment of the $468,870 grant of federal tax funds. Moerlein explained the federal tax allocation could be placed on deposit to draw interest.

Moerlein also presented a monthly financial report on the sewage treatment plant project.

The youngsters will be taken on excursions and field trips to broaden their knowledge, Pier said, and will receive personal attention and supervision from their assigned teachers. It is hoped, he added, the program will provide a better foundation for those children entering school for the first time this fall and thereby reduce the school dropout rate in later years.

Federal funds for Project Head Start have been made available through the newly-created Madison County Economic Opportunity Commission and is a phase of the government's anti-poverty program.

24th St. Playground Plans Bring Ire of Residents in Area

The Granite City park board again tabled a proposal to develop a playground on the 24th street parkway between Adams and Benton streets after residents of the area raised strong objections at a board meeting last night. The project has been delayed a month, but commissioners agreed that it deserved further study. One woman objected to the view of a fence and playground equipment, the traffic problem that would be caused, a resultant decrease in property values, the need for supervision of young children, lack of shade in that part of the parkway and around that Wilson Park is only three blocks away. Another complained that noise, dust and dirt would mar the neighborhood, and "the kids should be at home in their own yards like we were."

Alderman Reports

Paul Rutledge, Fourth Ward Alderman, said he has received telephone complaints against the proposal, that the playground would not enhance the area and that the state highway department has road improvement plans for 24th or 25th streets in the next 10 years. He also pointed to the need for playgrounds in North and West Granite, suggesting the old quarry but lots as a possible location.

for a single-family dwelling has been given as $468.

The bonds and interest which will be retired out of the collected from sewer users, provides that interest on the bonds shall start on April 1, 1968, and be paid semi-annually thereafter. Retirement of the bond principal, however, does not start until Oct. 1, 1972, and then only in the amount of $3000 per year for the first four years, at 4% interest, and then at $10,000 per year for the next five years at 4 1/2% interest.

In 1981 the bond retirement payment jumps to $25,000, and from that year on, the rates to increase from year-to-year, at 4 1/2% interest. The amortization schedule calls for a 40-year period, with the final payment in 2005 amounting to $115,000.

Object to Bond Sale Method
Lack of competitive bidding in the sale of bonds was questioned at length by Ropac and Phelps who were told by Gitchoff that "several" other bidders had been contacted by the township board and had declined to accept the proposed terms.

The primary reason given for the inclusion of the Grand Madison and State Park areas was that said neither area has a sewerage treatment plant which bonding companies demand.

Gitchoff added that the bonding firms would not be interested in underwriting the project if it had been limited only to the Bellemore addition and Pontiac Beach areas. He said John Nussbaum, president of the township board, would only accept the bond issue after an unqualified opinion had been obtained from Chapman & Clarke Co., bonding authority in Chicago. A part of the trouble in locating underwriters for the bonds, Gitchoff said, was the lack of bonding experience by Nameoki township.

More Homes Bond Cost

In answer to questions, Gitchoff said the increase of $245,000 over the initial proposal for the sewer construction program resulted from 181 new homes being built in the township within the past eight months and that the original estimate of cost was made more than a year ago. He added that the bond issue is now limited to the $1,900,000 figure and should find construction cost estimates for the township board would have to accept the project.

Issuance of additional bonds for and above those listed in the original ordinance was terminated by Gitchoff as unlawful, he commented that it is hard to convince the people that the installment bond issue is necessary, and he personally would not attempt to sell a second bond issue.

Gitchoff pointed out that qualified engineers had approved the original study, and the reliability of their estimated cost will be confirmed when bids have been submitted on the construction phase of the sanitary sewerage program. When questioned as to what would happen if 80% of the project were completed and the money ran out, Gitchoff said, this would not happen as all phases of construction are certified and payments are made until the work is judged satisfactory. Also, he said, a reputable construction firm would be reasonably close in bidding on the job.

Ropac asked why the sanitary sewer program calls for full treatment of the sewage, which considerably raises costs. Auditor William G. Schreiber replied the full treatment process in the sewer program is based on the belief that in the near future all municipalities will be required by federal law to use this method.

Oppose Monthly Rate

Several in the audience expressed apprehension over the fee. Chester Dean, a former member of the Pontiac Beach village board of trustees, asked what recourse a property owner would have should the area go into an economic slump. Gitchoff explained the bonding firm cannot eroin property in lieu of payment, but the township can sue. However, he added, all large utility construction programs are based on the theory that everyone will pay.

Concern was expressed that present township residents who live in areas which will be annexed by Granite City would be liable to pay for the sewer program even though annexed by Gitchoff said that was his opinion Granite City could not annex an area being served by the township sewer system.

Contradictory views were expressed by Ropac and Carl Macos, who said that three attorneys, including Ropac, had stated otherwise. He named Harry Hartman, Nick Vassilef and William P. Hoercher as the attorneys who gave opposing opinions.

"Several" other bidders had been contacted by the township board and had declined to accept the proposed terms.

TOURIST ATTRACTION at Hardin in Calhoun county is a lift or draw bridge over the Illinois River that originally was built to provide a way out of the county for the huge annual apple crop. Before the bridge was built, the only way out was by ferry.

Lift-Bridge at Hardin Was Built for Apples

Illinois is a state of unique and historic bridges, some of them dating back to Civil War days and before. Of the many covered bridges once spanning streams within state borders, only nine are still being maintained, or have been restored by historical groups.

But at the river town of Hardin, gateway and county seat of Calhoun county, without a railroad, and famous for its apples, there is another type of bridge over the Illinois River, a rarity in this part of the state.

The bridge, one might say, was built because of Calhoun's huge annual apple crop. There were no feasible ways to get the apples to market.

Nearly an Island

Calhoun county, as the tourist knows, is almost completely surrounded by water—a long fringe of limestone ridge and sandwiched in between the Mississippi and Illinois rivers. Until the bridge was built at Hardin, only way to get out the apple crop was via ferry.

GC, Madison to Stage July 4th Picnics

Fourth of July holiday observances for the communities of Quad-City area residents will be staged in both Granite City and Madison this year with special programs that will run five days in Granite City and four days in Madison. Both will feature fireworks displays to be presented on the night of July 5.

Because the Independence Day holiday falls on a Sunday this year, with legal observance on the following day, an extra day of activity has been added to programs scheduled in the area and the three-day "weekend" also will mean many more private parties and picnics in parks and at lakes and recreational spots of the area.

Granite City is to open its Fourth of July observance on Thursday, July 1, with the opening of the 17th annual softball tournament at Wilson Park. On Friday, July 2, the picnic grounds will open at 6 p.m.

The observance booths and a midway of carnival rides in operation. The picnic will continue until the celebration ends Monday night, July 5.

A special kiddies matinee on Saturday, July 3, from 1 to 3 p.m. will be a feature of the picnic, with television personalities Cookie and the Captain on hand for personal entertainment. There will be a special 10-cent ride fare during the matinee.

Plan Street Dance
A street dance, with Russ Carter of the St. Louis Hop TV program, is scheduled for Saturday night, July 3, and a concert by the high school band is slated from 3 to 7 p.m. Monday, July 5.

In addition to the softball tournament, which will run through Monday, July 5, other local men's baseball teams will play games at the park Sunday and Monday afternoons, July 4 and 5. The climax will be the picnic arrangements.

A four-day celebration will be presented Friday through Monday, July 2 through 5, in Madison, under sponsorship of the Amveis and the Madison Lions club. The picnic will be held on the Junior High school grounds at Third street and Highland.

A carnival midway of rides and refreshments will be a feature of the picnic-style observance. The picnic grounds will open at 6 p.m. on Friday and Saturday, July 2 and 3, and at 2 p.m. on Sunday and Monday, July 4 and 5.

A complete schedule of Knobby League games will be played throughout the duration of the picnic and a major fireworks display will be presented at dusk on the last day, Monday, July 5.

The John Kozaik, commander of the Amveis post, is chairman of the picnic arrangements.

Five Firecracker Complaints, No Arrests

Five firecracker complaints were answered yesterday and last night by Granite City Police who were aided by the county on one investigation. No arrests were made.

Police were summoned for a second time this week to the end of the 2800 block of Lynde avenue about 4 p.m. on a complaint that boys were shooting a gun outside the city limits. Aided by county authorities, the officers found several boys shooting firecrackers.

The other complaints were at 8:35 p.m. in the 2400 block of St. Clair avenue, 9:10 p.m. in the 2800 block of Palmer avenue, 11:25 p.m. in the 2100 block of Pontoon road and 11:58 p.m. at Kirkpatrick Homes.

Driver in Collision Faces R-O-W Charge

Police said Shannon was driving off a parking lot on the east side of the railroad crossing and was involved in a collision with an eastbound status vehicle belonging to Union Star & Refining Co., driven by Earl Schreiber of East St. Louis.

Labor of Love Launched: Houseboat by Daugherty

Old Man River has a new customer. Quite a stylish one, too. The new customer is a 15-by-45-foot houseboat which hit the water for the first time last week at the Bow Line Boat Club on the Hartford Canal. The launching climaxed nearly two years of labor by boat-buildingist Syd Daugherty, Route One, Edwardsville.

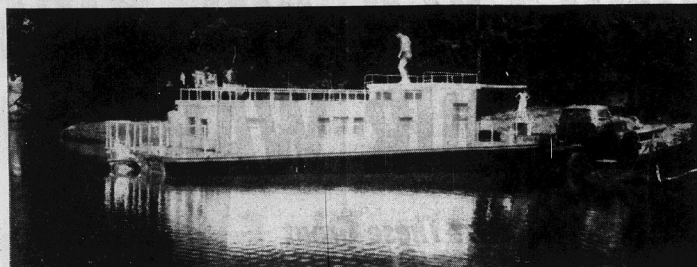

Daugherty, a long-time Granite City resident and a general foreman at Granite City Steel Co., began the building project on July 16, 1963, and applied the finishing touches just last week. Justifiably proud of the impressive pleasure craft, Daugherty had to apply some new skills during the construction. "It has a steel hull, so I had to go out, buy a welding machine and learn how to weld," he said.

Comforts of Home
Daugherty, who lives alone, envisions the houseboat as a means of getting away from the hub-bub and routine of modern life. Like Huck Finn, he will escape to the river, but with considerably more comforts than the young hero of literature enjoyed on his raft.

The houseboat has sleeping facilities for seven and is equipped with shower and bathroom. There are two stunks, 10-by-22 and 10-by-6, and just about every other facility necessary for relaxing weekends and vacations.

The upper construction is of marine plywood and fiberglass, with painted windows and doors. The main cabin is paneled in mahogany and the pilot cabin in cherry wood.

This moving retreat is powered by a 25-horsepower inboard outboard engine equipped with a power unit that swivels and lifts the propellers in case of shallow water.

EASING IN the 45 foot refuge away from home are Syd Daugherty and friends who spent two years patiently waiting for the day that Daugherty's dream would come true.

110 Gallons of Gas.
Daugherty said the boat has capacity to carry 110 gallons of gasoline and 110 gallons of fresh water. His pride and joy is named the "Frankie Paul" in honor of two other pride and joy—his grandsons.

Total cost of the project was between $600 and $700 in materials, the builder said, and "I like to say I did about $15,000 in labor, although that's probably exaggerating a bit."

The first commadore of the Bow Line Club, Daugherty has been boating since 1950 and has led river trips to Nashville, Tenn., Kansas City, Kan., and Minneapolis.

From now on, any trips by Daugherty will be made in style. And by the way, his little 19-foot outboard cruiser is up for sale.

William Banks, 44 Lee Wright Homes, Venice, Jaycee Junior

CHRISTENING TIME is almost here for the "Frankie Paul" as it waits in the warm morning sun prior to launch time. Mrs. Nell Harding, one of the first guests on the vessel had the honors of breaking the official bottle of champagne over the bow.

THE COMMORODE, Syd Daugherty, is at the wheel of his new retreat from city life for the first time since he envisioned the pleasure craft nearly two years ago. The control panel has indicator lights for all of the boat's functions which immediately show if the vessel is operating properly. The "Frankie Paul" even has a sonar depth detector and Marine radio.

Mexicans Take 2-1 Battle from Falstaff

Mexican Honorary Commission nipped Falstaff 2-1 in Open Low Pitch League softball action Monday night with a seventh-inning run after Falstaff had tied it in the sixth at Wilson Park.

Three singles by Jerry Bennett, Rufus Valencia and N. Martinez did the trick for the Mexican club. A fourth-inning run also came on three singles by August Becerra, Jess Ybarra and Louie Becerra.

Falstaff's tally came on a round-tripper by Chuck Weiss. He also singled to lead an eighth-inning effort off of Rufus Valencia. Rich Demaree gave up 10 safeties.

ringhaus. To the left is the present Memorial park, and in the rear is the loman building. The trains were known as the "old McKinley line" of the Illinois Traction System. The owner of the photograph, Clarence Lile, veteran local druggist, found the picture recently as he was going through old souvenirs. Lile believes his late brother-in-law, Al Saegesser, took the photo as a promotion when a group of area citizens went to Springfield.

and "I have been bothered quite a bit by it."

In Madison county 50.6% marked the first statement, 38.1% marked the second, and 11.3% marked the third.

In St. Clair county, however, 37.1% marked the first statement, with 48.5% marking the second and 14.4% marking the third.

Less Bothered
The paper stated that the "residents of St. Louis county are considerably less bothered by air pollution than are the sample respondents of the other major sub-areas. St. Clair county indicates greater problems than any other segment. This question did not specifically ask the location of the air pollution which is bothersome. It is entirely possible, then, that the place of work rather than the residence area is the site of the recognized problem."

In answer to a question: "as you see it, is there an air pollution in this neighborhood?" the Madison county group answered 47.5% yes, and 2.5% no, while St. Clair county residents voted 37.9% yes and 11% no. The report states that St. Louis city residents voted 50.8% yes on this question and 49.2% no, with St. Louis county voting 23.8% yes and 74.2% no.

In still another phase of the survey, most respondents indicated that summer is the period during which they are most aware of air pollution in the neighborhood. It is listed in the report that Madison county respondents, while noting the presence of air pollution in the neighborhood less than their St. Clair county counterparts, are more likely to indicate that what polluted areas there are, are plagued throughout the year. Illinois respondents with a awareness of neighborhood air pollution indicate its presence in all seasons, more than residents of Missouri.

State Causes
The sample groups, the paper goes on to explain, also were asked to state who they believed caused air pollution.

In Madison county, a 78.1% vote went to factories and businesses with sawmills, sewage tanks and polluted water ranking second with a 12.3% vote. Other causes stated by Madison respondents were: exhaust from transport agents, 5.3%; private burning in yards, 4.1%; ragweed and others, 1.9%; insecticides, none; garbage and refuse dumps, 6.8%; road dust, 5.5%; burning of coal, 4.1%; general dirt in area, 1.4% and other, 1.2%.

Factories and bus, as also were blamed by 74.3% of the St. Clair county respondents, but they ranked road dust as second place with a 19% vote. Sewers and polluted water were blamed by 8.6%, the same as the cause that was cast for St. Louis county residents. They voted only 2.9% for burning of coal, but 4.8% for general dirt in the area.

Separate Structure
Plans call for seven upstairs rooms over a hallway and covered mall area, the hallway connecting with the ground floor cafeteria.

The structure will not actually be connected to the main GCHS building but will be linked to it by a covered walkway. Architects are Henry Gabriel and Sylvester Dulzgeroff.

The new Illinois fire safety code" signed by Gov. Kerner applies to the design of schools and additions or which contracts are awarded after July 1, 1965. It does not require changes in schools built since Jan. 1, 1955.

Two Years for Survey
On schools constructed before 1955, districts must make a survey by July 1, 1967, to determine whether they meet minimum standards under the code, which is intended to provide better protection for pupils against fires and the deadly fumes created by fires.

Deficiencies found in the survey then will have to be remedied, probably including substantial remodeling of some schools.

The state is permitting a special tax for districts already utilizing all of their authorized building fund tax rate. However, estimates show most districts will have to provide additional funds to meet remediating remodeling costs.

Accident on Lot
An auto being operated in reverse on a parking lot at the rear of 1837 Delmar Avenue by John Pomeroy, 1837 Delmar Avenue, struck a parked car belonging to Nina Smith, 2056 Cleveland Blvd., it was reported to police yesterday afternoon.

Two Hubcaps Stolen
Theft of two hubcaps off his 1965 auto while it was parked at Niedringhaus and Madison avenues was reported to police Wednesday morning by Emmett Neuling, Rural Route One.

MORE ABOUT Most Residual

tional average, the value of personal property items, from electric can openers to color TV sets, has jumped by 31% in the last 10 years. Home construction costs meanwhile have risen by 19%.

In a fairly typical situation, it would cost a homeowner $4400 of his own money today to replace a home and possessions that were fully insured a decade ago.

Statistical averages nationally show it would cost $17,850 now to build a home which cost $15,000 to build 10 years ago. The family with personal possessions valued at $5000 then would have $6530 worth of such goods now.

Higher Living Standards
The latter increase is attributable not only to the rise in prices of personal property items over the years, but also to the increase in their quantity and quality as a result of the general improvement in American living standards.

Such studies become progressively more dramatic the farther back they are taken. Home building costs have risen by an average of 105% since 1945, and personal property values are up a whopping 185%.

To guard against possible loss from underinsurance, periodic reviews of homeowner or fire policies are urged.

In addition, an up-to-date inventory of personal property and its estimated value should be kept in an individual's office, safe deposit box or somewhere else away from his home to guide him in reporting losses.

Home Fire Every Minute
Urgency of taking such steps is underscored by the fact that fire damages American homes at a better than one-minute rate over the course of a year.

By considering the actual cost of replacing his home and belongings, a family even in a small home may find itself meeting the $8000 minimum for multi-peril package insurance. Why should residual insurance if possible be avoided, in favor of a package policy, under present conditions? A report by Kent H. Parker, general manager of the Fire Insurance Research and Actuarial Association, shows why it is in distribution.

In 1955, when there was little homeowner business, national dwelling fire loss ratio was 93%, including losses, adjustments and expenses. This meant a 7% profit.

In 1963, after eight years of growth of homeowner policies,

Granite City PRESS-RECORD

written premiums on the dwelling class declined from $375 million to $244 million, a reduction of 35%; paid losses rose 18%, from $103 million to $192 million; and the loss ratio climbed to 123%—23 cents of red ink for each dollar of residual business.

Speaking in Birmingham, Ala., this spring to the National Association of Insurance Commissioners, Zone III, Parker said, "The higher loss ratio developed in spite of rate increases in some states starting in 1961."

"As is evident from the opposing premium and loss trends, the problem is not entirely due to growth of the package dwelling contract. This did select out the medium and higher value dwellings. The fairly level average claim per incident is no longer counter-balanced by premiums for the moderate to high value home."

Repair Costs Rising
"But coupled with this index, a study of basic premium has been a rising incidence of claims and an increase in the average size of loss on the residual fire business itself. This is due partly to the effect of creeping inflation on repair and replacement costs in a class where insurance-to-value is seldom maintained due to absence of any coinsurance penalty for underinsurance."

To achieve more adequate premiums, rates have been boosted in 18 states since June 1964, when state bureaus received 1963 records.

And there have been several changes in rating procedure—such as introduction of the loss constant factor—designed to make rating more equitable and loss data more responsive. Upward adjustments have ranged as high as 60%.

Deductions, Shorter Policies
Parker also cited the built-in time lag in securing the remedial effect of a rate adjustment, due to widespread use of five-year installment or deferred-premium payment plans. F.I.R.A. has suggested withdrawal of installment and deferred plans for dwellings, with fire policies limited to three years.

Broad and special dwelling forms also may be withdrawn in instances of underinsurance. "In reflection of the rather general interest in possible use of an across-the-board deduction, we have recently engaged in an actuarial study," Parker related. Results are being studied.

"A home of modest value is no worse a risk today, relatively, than ten years ago. The residual class has the largest volume and the best spread of any class of value is seldom maintained due occupied by a responsible person, with proper maintenance and reasonable housekeeping, it still represents a low-hazard risk.

"But in the better knowledge as a result of statistical isolation, there is much to be done to provide the premium dollars to compensate the underwriter for the average loss cost, and to measure the dollar contribution that the owner or occupant should provide for his basic coverage."

Damaged on Bridge

Two autos were damaged at 4:30 p.m. Wednesday in a collision on McKinley bridge. Venice police reported today. ## Glen Carbon Man Hit In Eyes With Tear Gas

A Glen Carbon man, 24, who was shot in the face at close range with a tear gas gun, was among those treated Monday in the emergency room of St. Elizabeth's Hospital.

Richard Cohn, 228 Glen Carbon, was given first aid and transferred to McMillan Hospital, St. Louis, where parties were removed from his right eye. He was released, but told to return for further treatment.

State's Atty. Joseph R. Barry-Jak said yesterday he would seek a warrant for the arrest of a Glen Carbon tavern operator involved in the incident. Willis Stephenson, 46, of Glen Carbon, was questioned and released pending an investigation by the Madison county sheriff's office. A sheriff's report stated that Stephenson fired a tear-gas pencil gun at Cohn following an argument at the tavern.

Benefit Fund for Elk Member Reaches $1800

The benefit fund raised by members of the Elk's Lodge 1063 and friends for Ernest Cline, a member and former officer in St. Louis before being transferred to Jefferson Barracks Hospital, now increased to $1800 according to an announcement by James J. Kenney, exalted ruler.

A benefit ball was held recently at the Elks home and $1400 was raised at that time. The proceeds will go to assist the family with hospital and medical expenses.

Cline, 40, was completely paralyzed by a stroke and underwent extensive treatment at Pirmin DeLoe Hospital in St. Louis before being transferred to Jefferson Barracks Hospital.

He would like to have visitors now, Kenney said. The hospital hours are 2 to 4 p.m. on Wednesdays, Saturdays, Sundays and holidays and the family has stated that he would be happy to have friends drop in to see him for a few minutes. Mrs. Cline and his mother are also extending their appreciation to all who assisted.

New Service Station Organization Meets

The newly-organized Quad-City Gasoline Dealers Association met last night to discuss organization procedure and several items for the welfare of the dealers and employees of the member firms.

The group also accepted seven new members—Ronald Branding, Jerry Snider, Andrew Anderson, Fred Haug, Andy Saks, Corky Christianson and Harry Frynklo.

The organization has been formed to serve service station operators of the Quad-City area and is expected to replace the service station division of the Retailers Association with which the group once was affiliated. Dealers wishing information on the program may contact either Ralph Strain or Richard Spauld.

The group meets the fourth Wednesday of each month.

Sale of Bi-State Bus Weekly Passes Doubles in 4th Week

Sales of the new $3.50 weekly transit pass have almost reached the 20,000 mark in the fourth week since its inauguration. It was announced today by Transit Services Corp., marketing the State Transit System. This is a doubling of the maximum number of passes sold in the first week. The monthly passes sold and indications are that sales of the new weekly pass will continue to grow, a spokesman for the transit system said.

The new weekly pass was introduced on May 31 along with other system fare changes. The sale of passes started with 14,872 in the first week and reached a total of 19,550 in the current week. The former monthly passes, which were initiated in October 1963, started with a sale of 3056 and reached 10,800 before they were discontinued. However, during the summer months, the sale of monthly passes sold fell off substantially.

Pass Popular
"It is obvious that the new weekly pass is much more popular than the former monthly pass."

A verdict of suicide was returned by a coroner's jury last night during an inquest into the death of John H. Brantley, 28, of 2815 East 25th street, who was found dead in the garage at his home Sunday afternoon.

The child was released after treatment. Lydia Hamacher of 2142 Belmont street was treated for abrasions to her left forearm and an injury to her left leg as the result of a fall from a ladder in her home. She was admitted to the hospital.

Economic Group to Meet

Flight for Life During Vacation Trip in South
A harrowing experience in which he narrowly escaped being killed by a mob of angry natives near Selma, Ala., the same weekend as a nationally-publicized murder there, was related to Madison County residents yesterday by Oscar Albert, a club member newly returned from a vacation trip to Florida.

The highway was nearly deserted during a long drive from Selma to Montgomery, and no other vehicles were in evidence during an extended chase by two men in a car with disfigured license plates. He finally escaped by speeding, aided by the fact that his auto was newer and more powerful than the one being pursued.

Traveling through Alabama enroute to Florida, Albert had been told by a local man, one he explained, and he does not know the identity or intention of the men who followed him. He chose a route through Selma out of curiosity, since there had been rioting during the initial attempt to stage a civil rights march there several days before.

The march that was completed took place on the same weekend as Albert's trip. Other than his experience, there were no incidents at that time. However, later that weekend a Michigan woman motorist was shot to death along a highway by men riding in another car.

Albert was introduced by Harry Thebeau, program chairman, Outgoing President Lawrence F. Palkes presided. Dr. J. E. Weed reported tentative plans for a joint meeting with Granite City Rotarians in July, where members are to present a traveling golf trophy to the host club. William Mehl was honored on his birthday.

Beat Summer Heat Tips Provided for Housewives

To beat the summer heat, a home economist advises the housewife (1) to pre-plan meals, (2) to cook at low temperatures (rather than high, and (3) to prepare extra portions for the freezer for later serving.

"Pre-planning, low-oven temperatures, and well-balanced meals will give you the time and energy to enjoy the present and spring days, to relax as summer's heat descends," said Henrietta Becker, lecturer in food service and nutrition in SIU's School of Home Economics.

She suggested pre-planning the luncheon and dinner menu at 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning, and preparing the salad and dessert early in the day. "Mixed green salad can be prepared, except for the dressing, and refrigerated in a sealed cellophane or plastic bag," she said. "It will become even more delicious after chilling."

Meats prepared at low temperatures (225°F.) are juicy and tender, she said, and even more important in hot weather—the low temperature provides a cooler kitchen, eliminates the need for close watching, prevents spattering and thus saves oven-cleaning time.

Preparing larger portions of meat for a one time permits freezing the extras for later serving, she pointed out. Individual portions of meat can be wrapped in aluminum foil and frozen; if removed from the freezer in the morning it will be thawed by noon and ready to serve. If desired, it can be placed in the oven for heating in the aluminum wrapping.

Extra servings of many vegetables can be frozen and reheated for quick serving, she said. Many varieties of cakes, pies and rolls can be prepared early in the morning while it is cool, placed in the freezer, and reheated or re-frozen as needed. "Even baked rolls, taken from the freezer and thawed, may be crunched in a medium oven until they are piping hot," she said. "They still taste like freshly baked ones."

Mrs. Melba Wade reported on the recent Madison-Bond County meeting and after the business session conducted by the president, Mrs. V. Kassabian, there were games with prizes given to Mrs. Ebrecht, Mrs. Cecilia Matlock, Mrs. Ella McKittick, Mrs. Alma Klaus, Mrs. Victoria Portell, Mrs. Wade, Mrs. Mildred Rees, Mrs. Dorothy Johnson, Mrs. Ebrecht and Mrs. Dorothy Best.

Dow Diamonds Dine on River

State Auditor Revises Pay Day Schedules

A calendar of fixed pay days for state employees in all code departments has been organized by Michael J. Howlett, auditor of Public Accounts, for the 74th biennium beginning July 1.

Employees of the state universities and the constitutional officers already receive their pay warrants on fixed dates. They are on payrolls submitted directly to the auditor for auditing and processing.

Employees of the code departments, which number more than 14,000, are on payrolls processed through the Departments of Personnel and Finance before they are submitted to the auditor. Their payrolls are routed so that warrants will be released daily between the fourth and 12th working day after the end of the previous pay period. The schedule was established so payrolls could be processed evenly.

Pension Payment Eligibility Explained

Unmarried minor children of deceased veterans remain eligible for pension payments even though their mother loses her eligibility by remarriage, the Veterans Administration stated today.

The same situation occurs when the mother becomes ineligible because her income exceeds the limit for pension eligibility. In these instances, John B. Naser, VA regional manager for Illinois, pointed out, payments are stopped to the widow but continued to her children.

But if the widow fails to apply for pension, knowing that she is not eligible, the VA will have no record of the children who are entitled to receive pension payments.

Unmarried children of deceased veterans are eligible for pension payments until they are 18 years of age, or until they are 21, if they are attending school, provided their own personal incomes do not make them ineligible.

Teachers Can Get Tax Cut For Taking Certain Courses

It's time for summer school again and many teachers will be thinking about educational expenses as a Federal income tax deduction, Jay C. Philpott, director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, said today.

He pointed out that expenses for education are deductible if the course or courses improve the skills required by the person in his job, or meet requirements set by his employer.

Expenses are not deductible if the education or training is undertaken to obtain a new position or to attain general educational improvement.

"If you travel as a form of education while on a sabbatical leave," Philpott said.

"Deductible educational expenses are claimed in Part IV on page 2 of Form 1040 if you itemize your deductions. They cannot be claimed if the standard deduction is used.

"On the other hand, the cost of travel, meals, and lodging while away from home overnight for qualified educational activities may also be claimed as a deduction and may be claimed on Part III of page 2 of the Form 1040, titled, 'adjustments,' whether or not the standard deduction is used," Philpott added.

Document No. 5014, which furnishes more detailed information on this subject, is available upon request from the Internal Revenue Service.

Reservists Retain Job Rights While Training

The U. S. Department of Labor office of Veterans Reemployment Rights is encouraging employers and employees to follow practices which will avoid difficulties concerning temporary absences from jobs for training duty as Armed Forces reservists and National Guardsmen.

Joseph R. Beaver, regional director of the Reemployment Rights office, said that under reemployment rights laws the job isn't really left in the sense that a vacancy exists. However, even these short tours of duty place certain responsibilities on both parties. He listed principal requirements which call upon the employer to request a leave of absence for training and to report back promptly when it is concluded. He said employers must grant leave for official training duty and reinstate the employee upon his return with seniority, status, rate of pay and world war II.

The principal difference, he said, is in the report back time for the reservist. Following training duty, the reservist or national guardsmen must return to work without delay after his release or on his arrival at his home city after the tour of duty. Additional information concerning re-employment rights may be obtained by writing or calling the U. S. Department of Labor Office of Veterans Reemployment Rights, Room 830, 219 South Dearborn, Chicago.

City Disbursements $192,327 For Fiscal Year's 1st Month

Granite City's disbursements during the first month of the current fiscal year amounted to $192,327, including $112,924 from the general fund's 17 accounts and $79,403 from special funds. The report for May was submitted to the council Monday night by Comptroller John Doohar and Treasurer E. R. Rich.

While the general fund had a balance of only $15,134 on May 31, Comptroller Doohar pointed out the city would not need to borrow money, since it has a total of $640,335 in the special accounts, of which $261,042 is sales tax reserve.

Collection of new tax money started earlier this year, and the initial distribution can be expected within a week or two, Doohar said.

The May report shows eight of the 17 general fund accounts with deficits and the remaining nine with slim balances.

Precinct Committee Changes Announced

Appointment of Richard G. Neuman as Republican committeeman of Precinct 21 was announced today by Charles W. Barnett, county Republican chairman. Neuman is replacing C. W. Barth, who has moved to Precinct 23 where Barth is replacing James Barton as Republican committeeman.

Barnett said that persons of all ages interested in helping strengthen the two-party system on the precinct level are invited to contact Barth at TR-4660.

The Madison County Republican Central Committee has recognized the great need of getting the younger citizens to participate in local partisan politics "as the most positive method of preserving our American Liberties," Barnett said.

HOW TO KEEP YOUR KIDS (and yourself) SAFE IN THE WATER

LEARN TO SWIM

It's easy and fun—for everyone! That includes Mom and Dad, not just sister and brother. The best time to learn is right now. The place, your YMCA.

OBEY WARNING SIGNS

They're not just something for the birds. They're mighty important. Signs tell of many hidden dangers: water too shallow for safe diving, strong currents, debris, pollution. Set a good example. Obey all warning signs yourself.

DON'T TAKE FOOLISH CHANCES

Look before you leap. Better yet, always wade into unfamiliar water, or lower yourself in gently. Teach your youngsters to do this. It can prevent serious injury. Each year over-eager swimmers are hurt when they take running dives into water without first finding out what's beneath its inviting surface.

SWIM AT PROTECTED PLACES

You and your family should swim only at protected beaches and pools—ones with trained life guards, rescue equipment and other safety features. Private pools are no exception. They should be watched over by a skilled swimmer when in use, and fenced and locked when they are not.

NEVER SWIM ALONE

It's dangerous. Nearly half of all drownings happen when people swim alone. Don't swim alone. And don't let your kids do it, either. "Safety in numbers" works in the water, too.

KEEP AN EYE ON THE KIDS

They can wander into danger in the twinkling of an eye. So check on them frequently. Another thing: be wary of water wings, inner tubes or other floating aids. They give weak swimmers a false sense of security and can dump them into deep water or carry them beyond easy reach.

AVOID WATER SHOW-OFFS

Pushing unsuspecting people into water, rocking boat, hot-rodding around swimmers in a souped-up water speedster or doing acrobatics in a crowded pool may start out as good, clean fun—but sooner or later someone gets hurt. Play it safe. Keep away from water show-offs. And see to it that no one in your family behaves like that.

KNOW YOUR LIMITATIONS

Many a swimmer gets into trouble because he doesn't know his limitations, or won't recognize them. Know yours. Don't try to swim farther or longer than you safely can, and don't be "dared" into trying it. Same goes for your children. And, please: there's nothing sissy about this advice. Just horse sense.

Eight GC Girl Scouts To Attend Idaho Roundup

By ALTA MARIE BOLLINGER

A teen city will spring to life at Farragut, Idaho, next July 15-28 when 8000 Senior Girl Scouts from the United States and 45 foreign countries gather for their fourth International Girl Scout Roundup.

Eight girls from Granite City have been selected to participate in this event. They are Alta Bollinger, 3000 Willow avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Bollinger; Elizabeth McDonald, 3006 Marshall avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond McDonald; Cathy Zenik, 3226 Washburn avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Zenik; Lois Kueker, 2105 Manley avenue, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Kueker; Marie Greve, 4117 Maryville road, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Greve; Chris Louis, 2355 Pontoon road, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Louis; and Diann Thompson, 4120 Kasberg lane, who resides with Mary Jelf.

The main purpose of roundup is to provide girls with an opportunity for fellowship and an understanding of the world in which we live. The girls will live in groups of eight called patrols. When at the site, the patrols will merge with four other patrols from all over the U. S. This forms a troop. Eight troops make an area. There will be five areas at the Roundup.

The Roundup site is in northern Idaho on the shores of Lake Oroville, 30 miles east of Spokane, Wash. It is the 5000-acre Farragut Wildlife area, which was a U. S. Naval training station during the world war II. On the site, the scouts will erect 6000 multi-colored tents. A year and a half of planning and work have gone into this site to set up everything essential for a prosperous city, including roadways, electric power and telephones.

Coolidge Honor Roll

Janet Geiger, a seventh grade student, and Alex Toth, a ninth grade student, were among those qualifying for the spring semester honor roll at Coolidge junior high school.

Throughout the roundup, girls from all over the map will be striving to learn more about themselves and others by bringing a new meaning to their promise: "On my honor, I will try 'To do my duty to God and my country. To help other people at all times. To obey the Girl Scout Laws.'"

Boys State Delegates Studying Government

Thomas M. Williams of Madison and Terry M. Gable of Venice are representing American Legion Post 307 at the Legion's 1963 Premier Boys State through Saturday of this week at the Illinois state fairgrounds in Springfield.

Richard Pittenger, Premier Boys State chairman for Venice-Marion Legions, said the annual state gathering of outstanding students is teaching "practical aspects of citizenship, democratic government, the constitution and statutes."

Boys State "citizens" review political machinery and perform the same functions as real officeholders, organizing their own city, county and state bodies and electing their own officials.

Originated in Illinois in 1934, the program has been adopted by the national organization and now is in operation in all 50 states.

Gonterman Named to Head State Sons of Legion

John E. Gonterman Jr., 21, was elected state commander of the Sons of the American Legion of Illinois at the second annual state convention which ended this week in the Venice-Madison Post 307 Dugout, Venice. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Gonterman sr., 1009 Third street, Venice.

About 150 youths, representing 40 squadrons in northern and central Illinois, attended the two-day affair which was hosted by the Venice unit. Due to last-minute financial difficulties, a previously announced parade was cancelled.

Instead, the local youths entertained guests with an excursion aboard the steamer Admiral, Saturday night. They also witnessed a parade and viewed the new St. Louis arch in the Legion's amphibious vehicle, which accommodated about 60 youths per trip.

At a meeting earlier Saturday, the delegates named Gonterman as president, succeeding John Schultz of Waukegan. An employee of the C&N & O railroad, the new executive previously has served as a state sergeant-at-arms and is a past captain of Squadron 307.

The local squadron was organized in 1950. The state organization has been in existence since 1933.

William Ebersoldt, city clerk, welcomed the guests in behalf of Venice Mayor Dr. John Lee, and JOHN E. GONTERMAN JR., who was elected state commander of the Sons of the American Legion of Illinois at the second annual convention.

A talk was given by Ralph Drury of Alton, 22nd district American Legion commander.

During their stay here, the delegates were housed in the Venice-Madison Legion hall, using cots provided by the civil defense group. Meals were served in the Venice school cafeteria by members of the Legion Auxiliary.

In charge of local arrangements were Arnold Spiroff, recently elected squadron commander, and Lee Gonterman, immediate past commander. Harold Gardner serves as advisor to the local group.

The 1964 convention next June will be in Springfield.

Also listed are 81 publications by members of the new SIU campus faculty.

The bibliography reflects research in almost every academic unit of the school, ranging from such practical areas as "Consumer Attitudes and Egg Quality" studied by the School of Agriculture to long lists of publications in the physical, biological and social sciences and technological areas.

Summer Camp Programs To Get Under Way July 4

Southern Illinois University's Little Grassy Facilities staff of camp will be observed by a special evaluation team for the 13th annual series of open camp programs for school children, handicapped youngsters and 13 have been attending "Grassy" for supervised overnight camping since 1954. Camp Akevasane (Land of the Quail) opens its cabin doors July 27. Four groups of 116 will spend a week there.

Also on the schedule are a special "Teen Camp" designed to teach high school age campers counseling skills, a camp for adult cerebral palsy victims, Aug. 22-Sept. 4, and the annual SIU Alumni Camp sessions beginning Aug. 8.

The Senior Girl Scouts of Granite City stopped by for a short visit with us Wednesday (June 9) and we gave them a short tour of the building and a brief word picture of the National Chamber and its relationship to the Chamber of Commerce in their city. They were a most attentive audience. "They brought greetings from an All-American City and conducted themselves in an all-American way. We share your pride in this kind of citizen."

Ice Cream Truck Ban Pending

Loitering at drive-in sandwich shops would be prohibited under an ordinance proposed Monday night by Second Ward Alderman Samuel Whitmer. No action was taken on the proposed repeal ordinance for banning ice cream vending trucks.

Law Proposed to Prohibit Loitering at GC Drive-Ins

Whitmer called upon City Attorney Allen to study sample anti-loitering ordinances from other cities and to prepare such a law for Granite City to be presented next Monday night for consideration.

Other cities, Whitmer said, prohibit three or more persons to congregate on the parking lots at the drive-in establishments. They must either go inside the buildings or remain in cars, he said.

"With this law," Whitmer said, "our police will be able to do something about noisy crowds gathering at the drive-ins and disturbing people nearby. What we have now sometimes are 35 to 40 persons loitering about on the lots in gangs and most of them are above the curfew age. This goes on at early morning hours when people living in the vicinity of the drive-ins are trying to sleep."

Against Chicken Yards
Whitmer also called for preparation of an ordinance to prohibit chicken yards and the raising of other animals in the older sections of Granite City. He said the subdivision control ordinances cover the newer areas, but he has been unable to find any for the older sections. He reported an incident where chickens were being raised in the Second Ward and were even entering the home.

Undergoes Operation

E. J. Miller, controller of the city of Madison, is a patient in Barnes Hospital, St. Louis, where he underwent major surgery Tuesday. Miller entered the hospital for surgery after a series of tests revealed a gall bladder ailment. He is expected to return to his post in the city hall in about two weeks.

Urges July 1 Plan

Parmley pointed out the city could rebate the licenses and he urged the July 1 ban deadline be followed. He told the Press-Record that telephone calls to his home are 7-to-1 in favor of the ban.

"We just can't wait out this year with our fingers crossed hoping another child won't be killed or crippled for life," Parmley told the council.

Allen said it was likely the licensed operators have commitments, have hired people and have paid franchise expenses for this year's operation. He added that he would wait until the information arrived from Springfield before he would proceed.

Nonn suggested a meeting of the Street committee, the mayor, or the city attorney and the operators to work out an acceptable arrangement for the remainder of the current season. He called for a vote on the proposal and it was defeated.

No mention was made of the city's ordinance prohibiting opinion on the regulations restricting residential fences to information from the IML legal staff on the city's responsibility requested.

Police Plan Enforcement Of Anti-Fireworks Laws

Police officials of the Quad-City area will give a strict enforcement this year to the anti-fireworks laws, an Illinois state bill which not only prohibits sale of fireworks in Illinois, but also the discharge of fireworks as well, except at licensed public displays.

Public fireworks displays are planned for the night of July 5 at both the Madison area, a picnic at Third and Highland streets and the celebration at Wilson Park.

Officials pointed out that in recent years statistics show that there has been "paid" fence to the law, injuries of various kinds, particularly blindness and eye damage, have increased.

A recent survey by the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness, Inc., pointed out that public safety and enforcement of fireworks laws are breeding needless blindness and eye damage among children.

The society reported that a random survey of 24 cases of blindness and eye injuries during 1964 showed that 19 of them occurred within states with legislation banning fireworks except in licensed public displays.

Boys are victims. Preferring boys were the most frequent victims of the 1964 eye accidents from firecrackers, according to the National Society. Seven of the 24 persons hurt were boys between ten and 12 years of age. Five victims were girls, one of them a four-year-old whose right eye was seriously injured by a firecracker thrown by her father.

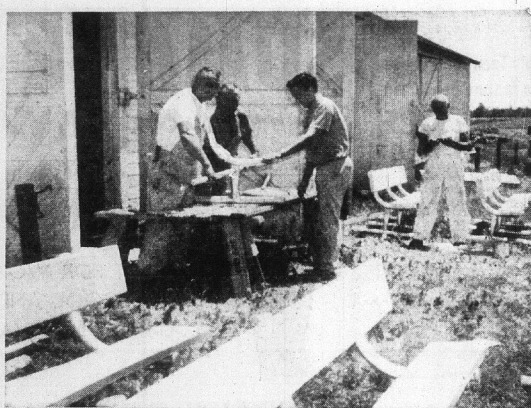

Local law enforcement officials pointed out that the state law has sufficient teeth in it if the letter of the law is enforced. The law prohibits the sale of any type of fireworks and the discharge of fireworks in the city by anyone other than a person or persons authorized to handle public displays.

Police officials said "bootleggers" found selling fireworks in the area will be prosecuted, but that it is difficult to control distribution of fireworks in this area since their sale is permitted in St. Louis county and in Missouri.

First Stop Sign Request to Go to New Traffic Commission

Cooperation was the keynote Monday night as the City Council members agreed to request by Mayor Partney and the city's new Traffic Study Commission to launch a campaign to replace the date campaign to replace the movement of vehicles in the city.

A request for stop signs on Washington avenue at 26th street to protect youngsters attending Sacred Heart school was made by Alderman Bartosik, who agreed to submit the request to the new commission.

Council members voted approval to buy a $14 traffic sign for immediate use by the commission, and Mayor Partney said an old one owned by the city is to be repaired and also put into use.

Approval was given for a call for bids for a second traffic sign during the night.

Approval was given for the purchase of a paint strip to mark traffic lanes and parking spaces.

An ordinance was moved to prohibit parking on the east side of State street between the two 24th street alleyways to eliminate a block on the heavily-traveled highway.

Nine parking meters are to be removed from the east side of Edison avenue from North Main avenue to the alley at rear of the city hall to provide for off-street autos.

Ordinances are to be prepared to restrict alternate one-way parking on one side of the street in the 1600 and 1700 blocks of Spence street and the 1700 block of Maple street and to prohibit parking on the east side of Illinois avenue at West 24th street for a distance of about 50 feet.

North-South Street Proposed

A request was made by Alderman Robertson for the mayor, city attorney, Street Committee and the city engineer to have yet to be hired, to investigate the need to extend the 24th parkway boulevard from Spence street to Madison avenue and a new street to be built on the east side of the railroad tracks from 22nd street to Pontoon road.

Mayor Partney explained that the state highway department several years ago considered the plan for a connecting street at Pontoon road because of the short distance between the railroad and the railroad tracks that such a roadway would create hazards and problems, and the state ruled against it.

Lone Bid for Sidewalk Repair Under Study

Referred to the Street Committee Monday night is a recommendation next week for a lone bid for sidewalk and curb removal and replacement submitted by Thomas Shuler, 1646 Olive street.

No exact amount of the bid was specified in the bid, as the dollar cost is to be set forth in Granite City's new ordinance. The bid was opened by Alderman Thompson, in the presence of Street Committee Chairman G. H. Sternberg.

Shuler's bid was for a square foot for four-inch thick sidewalk, 74 cents for 3-inch sidewalk at driveway and $3.09 linear foot for curb and gutter removal and replacement.

The city each year budgets funds for replacement of defective sidewalk in residential and business areas.

Robertson had asked for hiring an engineer to do the two-hour study also may find it necessary to buy equipment and hire extra people as rodmen. "The engineer can't do the whole job himself," he pointed out.

Striper Costs $625

The city's new paint strip, which will paint stripes two to six inches wide, is to be purchased from Key Equipment & Supply Co., St. Louis county, for the city will be paying not only $625. Only one bid was received.

For the gasoline motor driven machine it will be operated by the city's new painter, who was employed June 14. His appointment was confirmed with the adoption of a resolution. The painter, Thomas Reynolds, is being paid $333 a month.

Mayor Partney reminded the council that along with buying the paint strip, the city also should buy about 50 gallons of the city will be paying not only $625. Only one bid was received.

3 Fire Plugs Planned For North Granite

Installation of three fire hydrants in the North Granite area was recommended to Granite City council members Monday night by Fire Chief Earl Fromberger. A resolution is to be prepared ordering East St. Louis & Interurban Water Co. to make the installations.

Retarded Children Day Camp Exhibit Planned Tomorrow

The fourth annual summer day camp conducted at Wilson Park by the Granite City Association For Aid to Retarded Children will end tomorrow after a successful two-week program. Mrs. Evelyn Gavin, GCAARC president, said today.

A special handicraft display and program is planned for parents and friends at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at St. John United Church of Christ, which will show the daily activities of the children, she added.

Thirty-six youngsters have participated in the sessions, which were held from 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. daily. Serving as the program coordinator for the third consecutive year was Miss Margaret Roberts, a physical education teacher at Maryville school, who was assisted by teenage counselors and parents.

Special events featured during the past two weeks, included an overnight campout last weekend at the Bapogi campground near Mitchell, attended by 25 children and 13 counselors; and a sight-seeing boat excursion on the "Huck Finn," Tuesday, followed with a picnic lunch in Forest Park.

Bus transportation to St. Louis was provided by the Granite City park district. Mrs. Gavin said. She added that during the campout, Harold J. Thomecek of Godfrey had furnished rides for the youngsters in a special covered wagon.

Daily activities included swimming sessions, bowling and skating parties, handicraft classes, games and cookouts.

Leaf Blotch Being Found

When prolonged periods of cool, moist weather prevail during early spring—like this year—Septoria leaf blotch can reduce wheat yields as much as 30%. A normal year's loss due to this disease is usually about five percent, especially in early-maturing varieties. If most of the leaves of maturing plants are killed before the grain reaches the soft-dough stage, the grain will be lightweight and shriveled. The disease has been observed in a number of Madison county fields.

Septoria leaf blotch first appears as small, light green to yellow areas between the veins of the lower leaves. These areas then elongate to form light brown to reddish-brown irregular spots, often partly surrounded by a yellowish band. As the spots age, small dark brown to black specks form in the light brown to ash-white centers. The presence of these spore-producing bodies is the most reliable symptom for identifying the disease.

Fall-sown wheat is usually infected during late fall when the weather is cool and wet. Then the fungus overwinters in the live wheat plants or on dead plant refuse, ready to spread rapidly if an extended period of cool, wet weather occurs in the spring.

None of the wheat varieties adapted and recommended for this area are resistant to Septoria leaf blotch. Early-maturing wheat varieties are generally more susceptible than late-maturing ones.

County 4-H Election

Officers of the Madison County 4-H Club Federation recently elected are Mary Jan Miller, president; Fred Gvillo, vice-president; Dennis Rapp, secretary; Gerold Rottman, treasurer; Carleen Kasubke, reporter; Jo Ellen Lang and Jan Widmer, recreation leaders.

The annual 4-H Share-the-Fun contest will be held the evening of June 15 at the Weinheimer building, Highland. The county 4-H livestock and dairy cattle judging contest will be held at Purina Research Farm, Gray Summit, Mo. June 14. The state judging contest will be June 29 at the University of Illinois.

If you have put up with an annual invasion of insects—ants, crickets, centipedes and millipedes, spiders and waterbugs or oriental cockroaches—you'll be happy to know you can now control them safely, before they enter your house—with foundation sprays.

To successfully control these common insects pests, make a complete foundation spray barrier around your house. Use an emulsifiable concentrate of either chlordane or dieldrin. Dilute with water. The average house requires about 3 gallons of finished spray. Spray the foundation just to the point of runoff. Spray a 2 to 4-inch band of soil alongside the foundation.

Hints for Grazing Cows

Try daily rotational grazing this summer if you want to graze more cows on each acre of pasture.

A group of Illinois dairymen who used the daily strip system produced enough forage for four cows on the same number of acres as their neighbors did for three cows.

Here's how strip grazing works:

Divide the pasture into long strips that are wide enough to give the herd four or five days of grazing. Make sure each strip provides the cattle with shade and water.

Use cross wires to move the herd to new forage within one of the strips each day. Cows shouldn't back-graze for more than four or five days before they're moved to a new strip. Stock about 50 cows for each acre of fresh pasture daily.

After the cows have moved to a new area, clip off the old strip. Dairymen report that it takes from one to two days to divide a field into strips and from 10 to 30 minutes each day to move the cross-wire to give the herd access to fresh forage.

The time required each day is determined for the most part by the distance from the barn to the pasture.

Increasing Pasture Forage

Clipping may increase pasture forage by 10 to 20% in a mixture of legumes and grasses.

This additional pasture comes from young, tasty plant growth which makes the best feed for your dairy herd, says Leo R. Fryman, extension dairy specialist at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

In pasture mixtures, the grasses often grow rank and tend to crowd out the legumes. Clipping off this excess growth will give your legumes a better chance to grow.

Cattle are likely to graze even a well-managed pasture unevenly. They may not eat some of the grass, and it will go to seed. Clipping will remove these seed heads and will allow the pasture to recover at a uniform rate.

Clipping pastures also fits well into a rotational grazing system. Clip within two days after the herd has been moved to a new pasture plot. A chain or harrow can be hooked to the rear of the mower so that the droppings can be spread in the same operation.

In addition to improving the quality of the pasture crops, clipping will also control weeds. It will keep the weeds from going to seed and also keep them from crowding out the grasses and legumes. The result will be higher quality pasture for your dairy herd.

Separate First Few Bushels

Keep the first few bushels of your wheat separate when you start combining. Catch it in sacks or other containers to keep from contaminating the whole load.

Combines often have rat and mouse droppings that accumulate.

Illinois is a Leader

In Interstate Construction With more than 800 of its allotted 1631 miles of Interstate highways opened to traffic, Illinois ranks among the top states in the nation in construction on its Interstate Program. Francis S. Lorenz, public works director, said last week.

Publication of the quarterly progress report of the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads shows that Illinois has 802 miles of Interstate Highways now in use. The report covered the first three months of 1965.

Illinois is third among all states in Interstate mileage allotments with a total of 1631 miles on the 41,000-mile national network, scheduled for completion by 1972. Texas, with 3024 miles, ranks first, and California, with 2178 ranks second.

Mineral Production High

Minerals produced in Illinois in 1964 had an estimated value of $613 million, according to a report presented last week by John C. Frye, chief of the State Geological Survey. The annual report, given before the Board of Natural Resources and Conservation, summarized research and service activities of the Geological Survey during the past year.

Fuels in Illinois accounted for more than two-thirds of the total mineral wealth, Dr. Frye noted. Coal production exceeded the 1963 level, both in Illinois and the nation, rising 6% in Illinois to 54.8 million tons. This was the highest production in 13 years. Oil production in Illinois dropped $12.1 million from 1963. Rock products, including crushed stone, cement and lime, increased $2.3 million in value from 1963; sand and gravel increased $1.3 million. Industrial minerals, such as fluorspar, lead, zinc and miscellaneous products, netted the state an estimated $12.4 million.

According to Dr. Frye, progress has been made in the mapping of strippable coal reserves in Illinois.

Beetle Disease Introduced

Plans are being made to treat a substantial number of acres of farmland with "Milky Disease," the newest method developed for control of the Japanese beetle.

William T. Larkin, superintendent of the Agriculture Department's Division of Plant Industry, explains that when Milky Disease germs, or spores, are spread upon the land they enter into and live in the soil for long periods. The Japanese beetle eats the spores and contracts the disease, thereby inducing it into the entire population of beetles within the given area.

As each beetle dies, more spores are left in the ground, multiplying the number of disease spores from the original number very rapidly and by many millions. The disease is, therefore, self-perpetuating.

State Fair Premiums

Premium awards, trophies and ribbons for the 1965 Illinois State Fair will total $890,775.

Cash awards are derived from the agricultural premium fund through a tax levy on wagering at Illinois racetracks. No general tax monies are used, either for the State Fair or the 100 and more county fairs. The annual exposition will be Aug. 13 through Aug. 22 at the State Fairgrounds, Springfield.

The general premium book for the 1965 Illinois State Fair now is in distribution last week. The 332-page book lists all of the offerings in the general classes of livestock, floriculture, agriculture products and special competitions.

Illinois Pavilion Popular

A detailed report from the Illinois Pavilion at the New York World's Fair tells of the popularity of the Illinois exhibit in spite of poor fair attendance generally.

Reporting on pavilion attendance, James A. Cassin, executive director of the Illinois Commission on the New York World's Fair, said: "Illinois has more than tripled its percentage of the fair's total paid attendance and doubled the number of visitors received at the pavilion, compared with the same period last year."

Factors in Drowning

A state Public Health Department study of 130 drownings in Illinois last summer pinpoints overestimation of one's swimming ability and swimming in unsupervised areas as chief factors in drownings.

At least 35% of those drowned were classed as good or average swimmers and in spite of this, many misjudged their stamina, strength or skill.

Of the 130 drownings, 113 were male victims. Five of the six persons drowned in private swimming pools last summer were children; the drownings occurred when no one was present as a "life guard."
